The Next Step: Phase 2 Exhibit Installation

In 2024, the Hall of Fame will install three more permanent exhibits. The Martha & Roger Bland Immersive Pattern Maker will make its debut in the permanent Children’s Discovery Zone. Geared to the young, and the young at heart, this exhibit will enable all of us to create our own patterns – and to take a copy home for full bragging rights. The Tell Us Your Story Video Booth is a self-contained filming lab for guests to tell their stories about home, their favorite furnishings and more. For the industry, this is where we will capture your stories about careers in the industry that we love. The American Signature Inc. Room Designer introduces new technology that brings out the interior designer in all of us on a seven-foot-wide screen. It’s all about our mission to make home furnishings cool and to attract talent – from the youngest to the not so young – into our industry. It is where each of us can discover the wonderful world of home furnishings.

Paul Broyhill Future Leaders Award

For more than 30 years, the Hall of Fame has recognized exceptional leaders. The Leadership Initiative focuses on creating a new class of leaders and innovation. Each year we identify five Future Leaders as part of the Paul Broyhill Future Leaders Award. These individuals are under the age of 40 and are selected for their leadership, personal growth, communications skills and commitment to the greater home furnishings industry.

Those selected for the award are invited to attend a dinner during High Point Market with inducted members of the Hall of Fame who will participate in a guided discussion, led by Steve Pond, the founder of Furniture Today. Selection to attend the dinner is a very high honor and one that will be impactful for years to come. In addition to the award, recipients will receive a framed Certificate of Achievement signed by Hunt Broyhill, Paul Broyhill’s son; the published “Oral History of Paul Hunt Broyhill”; and membership in the Leaders Circle of the Hall of Fame.

Download the form to Nominate a Future Leader. Deadline for Entries is February 1, 2024.
