HALL OF FAME NAMES FUTURE LEADERS AWARD IN RECOGNITION OF PAUL BROYHILL

The Future Leaders Award given by the American Home Furnishings Hall of Fame Foundation will now be named the Paul Broyhill Future Leaders Award, underwritten by a generous gift from the Broyhill Family Foundation.

PAUL BROYHILL
FUTURE LEADER

“The Paul Broyhill Future Leader Award will be named after one of the industry’s leading families and a company that focused on executive training and perhaps produced more leaders for our industry than any other single company,” says Karen McNeill Pond, CEO of the Hall of Fame. “In our industry, the Broyhill brand will forever be preserved as the giant that it became and for the standards set by the Broyhill family through three generations: James Edgar Broyhill, Paul Hunt Broyhill and now his son, M. Hunt Broyhill.”

As the cornerstone of the Hall of Fame Leadership Initiative, the Paul Broyhill Future Leaders Award will be given annually to five emerging leaders that are selected on a points-based evaluation of the candidate’s leadership, potential for personal growth, communications skills, and their commitment to the industry. Recipients will receive a beautifully framed Certificate of Achievement signed by Hunt Broyhill, the published “Oral History of Paul Hunt Broyhill,” and an invitation to dinner with inducted members of the Hall of Fame. They also will be made members of the Leaders Circle of the Hall of Fame, and will be recognized on the Paul Broyhill Future Leaders Wall of Honor in our new permanent home.

In the early days of the COVID-19 pandemic, among the nation’s pressing concerns were for supplies, and personal protective equipment used by frontline medical workers and essential workers. As supplies went down, and prices rose sharply, companies like Corsicana Mattress Company quickly stepped up to assist by producing up to 70,000 masks per week. Their factories implemented worker safety protocols, bringing back some furloughed employees and staggering shifts to keep people safe.

Included in their submissions to the Hall of Fame are videos of Corsicana employees preparing, cutting, and sewing the materials to make these masks with speed and care. Future generations will be able to see an industry and a nation hard at work, and united in purpose.
